

What is the future for Europe?

Workshop organised by
European Research Network on Social and Economic Policy
Research on Money and Finance, SOAS

26-27 April 2016, Thessaloniki, Greece
Aristotle University campus, Law School building, 2nd floor, Room 212

Work will be presented on a variety of topics that directly relate to the future of the EMU and the EU. Further research and future activities by EReNSEP will also be discussed. The presentations and discussion will be in English.

Workshop programme

Tuesday 26 April

16:50-17:00	Welcome address Costas Lapavitsas
17:00-17:45	"The balance of fiscal and monetary policy in the EU" Heiner Flassbeck
17:45-18:30	"International Trade and Sectoral Multipliers in Greece and EU" Theodore Mariolis and Nikolaos Demioglou
18:30-19:15	"Fundamental human rights in present-day Europe: the case of the refugees" Spyros Marchetos
19:15-20:00	"A Spanish success story?" Antoni Soy

Wednesday 27 April

10:00-10:45	"A defective banking union" Sergi Cutillas and Costas Lapavitsas
10:45-11:30	"Balance Sheet after the EMU: Tricky but Manageable" Cedric Durand and Sébastien Villemot
11:30-12:15	"Divergence and convergence in the EU" Grigoris Zarotiadis
12:15-13:00	"Forcing change in Europe through National Disobedience" Hadrien Clouet
13:00-14:00	EReNSEP business meeting

Public Meeting, Wednesday 27 April, 19:00-21:00, Alexandros Cinema
"What is the future for Europe?"
Oskar Lafontaine and Costas Lapavitsas